The SAEEC 2007 features a convention agenda with a seminar and exhibition on a variety of current topics and a comprehensive overview of “Energy Efficiency at Work”.

The Southern African Association for Energy Efficiency (SAEE)

The Southern African Association for Energy Efficiency (SAEE) is one of 67 international chapters of the American Association of Energy Engineers (AEE).

As a chapter of the AEE, the SAEE is committed to the following objectives whilst increasing the profitability of organisations:

- An increase in energy efficiency;
- The utilisation of innovative energy service options;
- The enhancement of environmental management programmes;
- Upgrades to facility operations that result in energy optimisation; and
- The improvement of equipment performance whilst conserving energy.

The primary function of the SAEE is to promote the energy industry associated with Demand-Side Management (DSM) and energy efficiency in Southern Africa.

The aim of the SAEE is to become the Association in Southern Africa that brings all energy stakeholders in the region together. The SAEE has already come a long way towards achieving its goals of consolidating energy efficiency stakeholders in the Southern African region. Members represent the SAEE from nine countries.

For more information, or about becoming a member of the SAEE, please visit our website at www.saeec.org.za or contact our administrative office.
